Gary L. Starkman (former Assistant U.S. Attorney, Northern District of Illinois)
William J. Bauer (U.S. Court of Appeals, Seventh Circuit)

Hardbound • 1,700 pages

The seventh edition of this casebook begins with a discussion of the limitations of law enforcement investigative procedures. Every chapter has been revised and updated. The authors stress newer decisions and rely upon summaries of older decisions to trace the development of the law.

Topics include:

- Limitations on law enforcement practices and procedures
- Confessions and interrogations
- Eyewitness identification procedures
- Surveillance and the limits of undercover work
- Exclusionary principles and alternative remedies for unlawful investigative practices
- Grand jury proceedings

The late Frank W. Miller
The late Robert O. Dawson
George E. Dix (Iowa)
The late Raymond I. Parnas

Softbound • 763 pages

This casebook provides a detailed presentation of issues created by constitutional rules affecting law enforcement conduct and the exclusionary remedy for violations of those rules.

It discusses topics such as:

- Arrests and stops of suspects for investigation
- Search and arrest warrants
- Permissible warrantless searches
- Interrogation practices
- Lineups and other procedures related to eyewitness identification testimony

The fourth edition of this title offers instructors an effective problem-based casebook that provides maximum pedagogical freedom to craft an exciting course. It engages students via the creative use of case excerpts, provocative notes, scholarly works, cross-disciplinary essays, practice pointers, and over 175 illuminating problems.

Building upon the strengths of the earlier editions, the fourth edition features:

- New and significant developments in the law, explanatory commentary, and updated chapter checklists
- Coverage of both traditional and post-9/11 constitutional criminal procedure issues regarding search, seizure, interrogation, confessions, lineups, effective assistance of counsel, torture, and the risks of wrongful governmental conduct and remedies

978-1-59941-738-7
